

Fund Data

Investment Policy

A dynamic hedging strategy (DWS Flexible Portfolio Insurance or DWS FPI) which is regularly shifted between a growth component (e.g. equity funds, commodity investments) and a capital preservation component (e.g. selected bond and money-market funds), depending on market conditions. In periods in which the market declines for an extended period or in very volatile periods, the Fund may invest up to 100% of its assets in bond/money-market funds or via direct investment in bonds or money-market instruments. Please refer to the prospectus for the exact scope of the guarantee.

Portfolio Management's Comment

The mood was positive on the global equity markets in December, mainly because of positive economic data from the US. However, the markets remained nervous because of the EU Treaty changes discussed at another EU summit at the beginning of the month; looming ratings downgrades even of very creditworthy countries; and the uncertainties surrounding the attitude of the ECB. Although discussion on the Eurozone abated in the last days of December, the air of crisis continued to have a positive impact on German government bonds. Below is an overview of selected indices:

MSCI World Index (USD): -0.2%,
 MSCI World Index (EUR): +3.6%,
 DJ EuroStoxx 50 Index: -0.6%,
 S&P 500 Index (USD): +0.9%,
 Nikkei 225 Index (JPY): +0.2%,
 DJ UBS Commodity Index (EUR): -0.1%.

The current yield on 9-10 year German government bonds fell from 2.2% to 1.7%. The Fund is procyclically managed in accordance with a clearly defined algorithm and moves between a risky and a less risky portion. Because of the current market conditions, the risky portion of the portfolio was virtually unchanged.

General information

When the custodian sets the price on the last trading day of the month there can be a difference of up to ten hours between the times at which the fund price and the benchmark are calculated. In the event of strong market movements during this period, this may result in the over- or understatement of the Fund's performance relative to the benchmark at the end of the month (this is referred to as the "pricing effect").
