How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Class S shares of the Fund returned 5.94% for the period ended May 31, 2025. The Fund's broad-based index, the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index, returned 5.46% for the same period, while the Fund's additional, more narrowly based index, the Morningstar LSTA US Leveraged Loan Index, returned 6.81%.

The Fund's absolute performance was supported over the period as leveraged loans in aggregate produced a positive total return. The Fund's performance relative to the additional index was positively impacted by issuer selection in certain industries, including technology and diversified manufacturing, and an overweight allocation to wirelines. From a ratings perspective, portfolio performance benefited from issuer selection in credits rated CCC and below.

Relative performance was negatively impacted by underweight allocations to B2- and B3-rated credits, as this segment of the market performed strongly over the period. By industry, underweight allocations to financial other, healthcare, and electric utilities detracted.

The quality ratings represent the highest of Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's"), Fitch Ratings, Inc. ("Fitch") or S&P Global Ratings ("S&P") credit ratings. The ratings of Moody's, Fitch and S&P represent their opinions as to the quality of the securities they rate. Bond and loan investments are subject to interest-rate, credit, liquidity and market risks to varying degrees. When interest rates rise, bond prices generally fall. Credit risk refers to the ability of an issuer to make timely payments of principal and interest. As interest rates change, issuers of higher (or lower) interest debt obligations may pay off the debts earlier (or later) than expected causing the Fund to reinvest proceeds at lower yields (or be tied up in lower interest debt obligations). Floating rate loans tend to be rated below investment grade. Investments in lower-quality ("junk bonds") and non-rated securities present greater risk of loss than investments in higher-quality securities. In certain situations, it may be difficult or impossible to sell an investment at an acceptable price. Investing in foreign securities presents certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, political and economic changes, and market risks. Investing in derivatives entails special risks relating to liquidity, leverage and credit that may reduce returns and/or increase volatility. If affiliates of the Advisor participate in the primary and secondary market for senior loans, legal limitations may restrict the Fund's ability to participate in restructuring or acquiring some senior loans. The Fund may lend securities to approved institutions. Please read the prospectus for details.
