Dear Shareholder,

State Reporting of U.S. Government Income

Deutsche Global High Income Fund, Inc.
Deutsche High Income Opportunities Fund, Inc.
Deutsche Multi-Market Income Trust
Deutsche Strategic Income Trust

As you may know, mutual fund dividends derived from certain U.S. Government obligations may be exempt from state income taxes. For the year 2017, no portion of the ordinary dividends paid to you in 2017 by the above referenced Deutsche closed-end funds was attributable to U.S. Government income.

For questions on your closed-end fund account, please call Shareholder Services at (800) 294-4366.

Alternative Minimum Tax Information

For the funds shown below, a portion of the federally tax-exempt interest dividends paid during the 2017 calendar year represents income from specified private activity bonds and is a tax preference item for alternative minimum tax (AMT) purposes.

Your total 2017 tax-exempt income dividends are reported in Box 10 and your AMT interest is reported to you in Box 11 of Form 1099-DIV. Depending on your individual tax situation, you may be required by the IRS to complete Form 6251, Alternative Minimum Tax—Individuals. Please consult your tax advisor to determine whether you are subject to AMT. The percentages below show the portion of your total 2017 tax-exempt income distributions subject to the alternative minimum tax:

Fund	Percent
Deutsche Municipal Income Trust	10.27%
Deutsche Strategic Municipal Income Trust	9.63%

Income by State for Deutsche Municipal Income Trust and Deutsche Strategic Municipal Income Trust

Most states do not impose personal income tax on federally tax-exempt dividends that are derived from their own obligations or those of U.S. territories such as Puerto Rico. Listed below is the portion of federally tax-exempt dividends derived from interest on obligations of each state and U.S. territory. Multiply these percentages by the total tax-exempt interest reported to you in Box 10 of Form 1099-DIV to determine the amount of income earned with respect to a particular state or territory.

Please note that individual states may have special rules which restrict the pass-through of the exemption for such dividends. For more information about how your state taxes dividends, consult your tax advisor.
